DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

The objection to claim 18 is removed in view of the amendment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-9, 15-16, and 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dicesare et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,904,693 (hereinafter “Dicesare”).

Dicesare discloses a laparoscopic clip applicator having a disposable cartridge including an elongate tube (col. 2, lines 55-56), a pair of opposing jaw members extending outwardly from the distal end of the elongate tube (see e.g. figures 3 and 15), a one-way ratchet mechanism (col. 2, lines 42-45), a reusable actuating mechanism (see e.g. col. 2, lines 8-9). The actuating mechanism comprises a main body and an actuating handle (see e.g. figures 1, 3, 15, and 20). The disposable cartridge further comprises a push member (see e.g. col. 4, lines 12-15) for advancing the clips into the jaw members; a biasing or retaining spring (see e.g. col. 2, line 30-35); a drive coupling connected to a sliding ratchet pawl for engaging with mating teeth formed on an inner surface of the elongate tube (see e.g. figures 18-19), also having a central connection.

The actuating mechanism can be said to further comprise a plurality of tips and an actuating handle, and the cartridge further comprises a jaw loader for advancing the clip into the jaw members and a drive bushing (see e.g. col. 2 line 60 – col. 3 line 13).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dicesare, as applied to claims 1 and 15 above. Dicesare does not expressly disclose forming the ratchet mechanism from injection molded plastic. However, it is common to form surgical devices including ratchet mechanisms out of plastic because of its light weight.

Response to Arguments

Applicant has argued that the prior art, including Dicesare, have a ratchet mechanism in the handle but not in the disposable cartridge, and therefore Applicant's claims are patentably distinct. As stated in the last Office action, and substantially repeated above, Dicesare's figures 18-19 clearly show a ratchet mechanism in the disposable cartridge. Dicesare's col. 8, lines 9-27 also describe what can be considered a ratchet mechanism found in the disposable cartridge. Clearly the prior art discloses a disposable cartridge containing a ratchet mechanism, substantially as claimed by Applicant.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
